Design supremo Paul Daly, responsible for creating several of the most chic restaurants and bars in town, has fashioned an uber stylish venue, perfect to relax and indulge in from dusk until dawn. Attracting the finest of Mayfair's elite glitterati, the seventy-cover restaurant epitomises a contemporary modern day French brasserie, with a varied and complimentary menu. Set within a raised lounge area, with beautifully lit black and white portraits of twentieth century icons – the dance areas sets the scene for glamour filled and laughter fuelled evenings. Subtle lighting and an extensive cocktail list only help to make the party go with a sophisticated swing.
